

A Message from the Editor

The 23rd International Arab Conference on Information Technology ACIT'2022, was organized by Al Ain University during the period of November 22-24, 2022. The conference attracted several high-profile researchers, experts, scientists, and scholars from all around the world to discuss contemporary research and innovative ideas in the field of information technology. The conference gained utmost appreciation from the research community for bringing together more than 120 research leaders and leading experts. The research papers presented in the conference covered a wide range of novel ideas related to the applications of information technology in various scientific fields.

It is my pleasure and great privilege to present to you this special issue of IAJIT which is also one of such continuing activities. This special issue aims to collect the best papers presented in the ACIT'2022. After rigorous review of the submitted extended papers, we have accepted 12 papers appearing in this issue. The accepted papers cover various topics including AI & Machine Learning, Information Security, Networking, Image Processing, Internet of Things (IoT), Software Engineering, and Advances in E-learning. The editorial committee followed the guidelines of IAJIT Journal.

Finally, we would like to deeply express our sincere gratitude to all the authors who submitted papers, the editorial committee members and reviewers who made great efforts to complete this special issue, and the Editorial Committee of IAJIT Journal who gave us the opportunity to publish this special issue.
